The object of the Society is: Arctic Missions has one great desire: To make Christ known throughout the Arctic regions. In humble dependence upon the Holy Spirit and in effective co-operation with all Bible-believing servants, it is our purpose, under God, to evangelize the Arctic regions as God directs. The human agency is a group of Godly men organized on the field, operating from the field, and endeavouring to co-ordinate the work in the field; to this end, every method and ministry which is spirit-directed will be employed to minister to the needs of the people. More detailed activities include village work, yearly conferences, summer Bible camps, radio evangelism, Christian literature, and more recently the educational training of Indian, Eskimo, and Aleut in Alaska. This is high school education and Bible instruction. Leadership among Indian people is now a reality.
